

ST. LAMBERT CITIZENS PRAY TOGETHER

Sunday morning under smiling skies the city's Seaway Park was the scene of a truly inspiring church service in which all the churches of St. Lambert and their clergy united to worship together.

Reverend Dr. Arthur Van Seters acted as master of ceremonies and the Hear and Now choral group provided appropriate hymns and led in the common prayers. Women leaders participated in the service with ministers and priests.

The keynote was Unity-- in faith and in action, translated into positive deeds that show others we care. The several thousand people who attended the service were supplied printed sheets in both languages and each prayed in the tongue of his choice.

A silver collection taken up towards the end of the service will be devoted to Manitou College for the education of Indians and Eskimos some 120 miles north of Montreal. The collection yielded $545.27.

Following the service a community 'breakfast' of coffee and doughnuts was served by the Optimist Club of St. Lambert.
