(The paragraph below is not here to incriminate those mentioned, as much is exaggerated. It is all in the name of fun!.....of course, on the other hand....!)

It was the new Years party held at Nancy's, as she was back for the holidays. Oh, it was an exciting party all right, it's the people that make a good party.

Well first there was Glen—what can you say, except we hope you had a good sleep and that you at least had a pleasant dream. And Tim (in his polka-dot bow tie) naughty, naughty! and Tim's brother and Tim's cousin and...I think that's all. Then there was Meredith, you little devil! and Andrea who was glad, for once, to be able to watch everybody else...sorry your medallion froze on the way home. Janice was there too, lecturing to a poor innocent ? guy on why one shouldn't drink. We can't forget Launa who couldn't decide what to wear (that's not all she couldn't decide!) so arrived with two sets of clothing. (wearing one of course!) Debbie Martin and Carol were there, hopefully, the party wasn't too much for them. And Pam and Dave, who were silent most of the evening. Big Al was also there with his "cup running over with ?" Chris and Wendy were there, in their "dare-devil" suits, Debbie Purdie wasn't far behind, nor Andrea, Terri and Nancy in their Canadian dare-devil costumes. Oh, Wayne the naughty boy who had fun (if he can remember!) By the way, you didn't get tangled up with any plates did you?

Then midnight arrived, oh, the noise that was heard and the streamers that flew in that crowded room. It was all Launa's fault for the littering!

And Ray attacking an innocent little thing—twice even! Tony, who arrived later, was hoping to catch up, to the others. And Kathy, Bill, Phil and Sheila finally showed up and took over the living room floor. Well "there's got to be a morning after, Brenda, of course, it all depends on the night before! Meredith suggests "Aspirin." Would you believe it, June and Eric were behaving! while JoAnn observed the situation. And Jim trying hard again. Suzanne was also there, half awake half asleep. It was too bad, but Lois showed up. Bill was there singing his heart out...or was it drinking!..... Ellen, was around being NICE for once.

Around 5:00 things settled down, especially on the couch! Then the fireplace was lit, in front of which those remaining, spent the early, early hours of the morning. By the way, Wendy, can you, yet, remember what happened in that lost hour or was it to much to remember?

And thus ends this true to life adventure story.

P.S. HAPPY NEW YEAR.

| Glen | Jan 8th - 20 yrs.(Thanks for the party!)  |
| Phil | Jan 22nd- 19 yrs. (and to celebrate Phil'sgoing to throw an all expenses paidwild party, right Phil?) |
| Rod  | Jan 30th 19 yrs. (You nearly got on theFeb. list.)  | and the list wouldn't be complete if we didn't remember the ones we forgot last month. Happy Belated Birthday to Carol Gardiner and Brenda Hore. (18 and 16 yrs.)

NOTES

THANKYOU - to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and Antonio Giovanni Lawrencio (Tony) (with a name like that you think he'd be back in the old country!) whose home we invaded on our Caroling night the 23rd. There was singing by some in the living room by a warm fire, while others chatted in the kitchen. Thanks again.

THANKYOU - also to the Bouchats who threw open their doors to the "Hear and Now" on Christmas night. Those of us who were there enjoyed their food, drink, songs (sung by us) and their relatives, even the "crazy" aunt.

FLASH - Suzy Snowflake came, oh did she come!

THANKYOU - to Nancy and Ray who hosted the New Years party at Nancys house (Mr. and Mrs. Hores house!) We all as usual had fun....oh, did we have fun...!!

GOOD-BYE - to Richard and Barbara who will be moving to Hamilton, Ontario, where Richard starts his new job with Westinghouse. Both were an asset to the group on last years executive and Barbara's unique descent voice will definitely be missed in our songs. We wish you both the best of luck.
